MARSHALLS LAUNCHES CONSERVATION PRIORA – A FLAG-SIZED ADDITION TO THEIR MARKET LEADING PRIORA PERMEABLE PAVING RANGE

Marshalls Water Management team is proud to announce the launch of Conservation Priora, a flag-sized addition to their market leading permeable paving range which helps to alleviate flood risk.

This SuDS product, which takes advantage of Marshalls patented Priora nib to maximise interlock stability, is ideal for pedestrianised areas, but engineered and tested to withstand light trafficking.

This design-led product is available in three complementary sizes which interlock to create multi-size, truly random course laying patterns, but can also create single-size half bond options. Also, three contemporary colour finishes can be mixed and matched to enable truly creative paving designs.

Marshalls Chris Griffiths said: “Trends in design have been moving towards larger plan sizes and so we wanted to ensure that our customers had the option to achieve the look they want but with a permeable product.

“We have been able to use the experience we have gained in over 10 years of supplying Priora permeable paving to create a product which not only looks fantastic but also performs exceptionally well too.”
